

2022 Master Gardener Class Schedule

DATE	CLASS	TOPIC	INSTRUCTOR	Assignment/information
Jan 10-M	1	Botany	Catherine	Plant Life, bring a qt of soil
Jan 12	2	Site Analysis	Catherine	Bring colored pencils
Jan 17-M	3	Soil Amendments and soil fertility	Catherine	Getting the most from your garden organically
Jan 19	4	Vegetables	Catherine	Success in the veggie patch & design a vegetable garden
Jan 24-M	5	Soils	Brian Sebade	Not as bad as you think
Jan 26	6	Turf	Tony Koski	Have the best lawn
Jan 31-M	7	Pollinators & Habitat	Catherine	Helping the smallest survive
Feb 02	8	Insects	Scott Shell	More good bugs than bad
Feb 7M	9	Perennials/Annuals- Zoom	Kim Parker	Fun Flower Class
Feb 9	10	Prairie Ecology	Catherine	living in the Country
Feb 14-M	11	Season Extension	Catherine	High Tunnels/Greenhouses
Feb 16	12	Plant Propagation	Kathy Shreve	Grow your own
Feb 21-M	14	Herbs. Drip Irrigation	Catherine	More than basil. Build a drip system
Feb 23	15	Trees I	Mark Ellison	Tree care
Feb 28 M	16	Trees II	Catherine	Tree biology, what to plant
March 02	17	Pesticides	Catherine	How they work/alternatives
March 7-M	18	Landscape Design	Catherine	Design a landscape
March 9	19	Test	Catherine	Take home
March 16 W	20	Go over Test	Catherine	Eat cake
Oct 20	21	Graduation	LCCC –	Have fun.

Speakers

Scott Schell is an Entomology Researcher at U.W., an Extension Specialist and grasshopper expert.

Kathy Shreve is a Master Gardener and Geologist with the State of Wyoming

Tony Koski, Professor and Extension Turf Specialist, Dept. of Horticulture and Landscape Architecture CSU

Kim Parker, a passionate master gardener who loves teaching perennials and annuals.

Mark Ellison, Forestry Manager City of Cheyenne, founder of “Rooted –in-Cheyenne” .

Brian Sebade, UW Albany Co Extension Educator Agriculture and Horticulture

Classes are located at Laramie County Community College, Pathfinder building room TBA 6-9 pm, Mondays and Wednesdays in person

You are welcome to bring a sack lunch, snack or your dinner to class.

Graduated Master Gardeners are always welcome to attend classes, there is NO fee to returning Master Gardeners.

